

COVOH Decision Lab

Experience a new way of meeting

Our purpose is simple: to help your group interact, create, innovate and decide effectively and efficiently.

The COVOH Decision Lab is an innovative system that provides a streamlined meeting format designed to enhance the productivity level of group meetings. Experienced facilitators lead each group through structured discussions to capture creative thinking and maximize the contributions of each member.

Work Together Better

- Brainstorm, discuss and evaluate ideas
- Organize ideas into categories
- Vote, by rank order, multiple choice, yes/no
- Evaluate alternative across multiple criteria
- Identity priorities
- Build consensus
- Produce action-oriented deliverables
- Receive follow-up reports of decisions and discussions

Face-to-face or remote collaboration

Sessions may be scheduled at the Indianapolis location, with a portable Lab at the user's site or with remote on-line access.

Participants are able to focus on the content of the ideas

The COVOH Decision Lab is ideal for any group and can be used for strategic planning, project evaluation, surveys, making policy recommendations, developing curriculum, evaluating candidates for employment, grant writing, focus groups, board development and so much more. Each session is individually tailored to fit the needs of the group and accomplish their goals.
